

DAVID A. DAMICO

BIOGRAPHY

David A. Damico is a founding member and Chief Financial Officer of Burns White. He shares more than 30 years of litigation experience and business acumen with his corporate clients. He also serves on the firm's Executive Committee.

"At Burns White, we represent excellence in everything we do. Our mission is to provide creative solutions to enhance the bottom-line results for all of our clients."

With a long history representing Class I, regional, and short line railroads, Mr. Damico has a keen understanding of the challenges and strengths facing the railroad industry. Co-Chair of the firm's Railroad Law Practice Group, he serves as National Trial Counsel to multiple railroad companies, and has tried numerous occupational illness, toxic exposure, and catastrophic personal injury cases. Mr. Damico currently serves as the President of the National Association of Railroad Trial Counsel (NARTC) which includes top railroad trial and in-house attorneys from the United States and Canada.

In addition to his significant practice in the railroad industry, Mr. Damico serves as counsel on behalf of manufacturers and distributors in complex products liability and toxic tort cases. He also represents self-insured business owners and insurance companies in personal injury and premises liability actions.

A Pittsburgh native, Mr. Damico is a present and former board member of several local community and social organizations, and takes an active interest in numerous philanthropic initiatives that benefit the region.
